I still remember that during my earlier job, the seo team leader would ask me to write about 2-3 blogs.

Well this was no issue. But, typing down 500-600 words for each blog is near impossible. To provide so much content can never be smart. It is non other than tiered and silly bundle of words which makes no sense.

Content should be firm just like pizza base and magic of SEO should be like sizzling and multi-flavoring topping.

So with a delectable starting, lets chrnun in with the international history of SEO.
